DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED.

Were the Residents of This Vicinity Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings Last.

The entertainment at the Presbyterian Church last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings were all that the most enthusiastic friends of the M. and F. High School could have expected or desired. On Tuesday evening the leading feature was an elocution contest by a class of young Misses for a gold medal, given by Mr. J. O. Russell, of this city, and the music was rendered by Miss Hughes in a most entertaining manner. To do justice to each contestant would require too much space and would savor too much of bouquet pitching. The fact is that no class of the same age ever appeared before an audience in this city with as few defects, and as many meritorious points. Each and every one seemed to go to the bottom of their subject and unroll its beauties to a large and appreciative audience. While only one could win the prize, and while Miss Mary Miller was the winner, yet the other young ladies should feel that they made a great strike in winning the merited applause of such an intelligent audience. Miss Mary Miller can likewise congratulate herself as well as enjoy the honor which the medal bears, and which was won in one of the hardest and closest contests of merit and talent ever waged in an elocution contest in this town. The medal was awarded by Mr. Gordon Montgomery in a most entertaining manner.

On Wednesday evening the exercises consisted of music by Miss Carey Hughes and Readings by Miss Taylor, and from beginning to close was highly appreciated by the many present. No critic could pick a flaw in Miss Taylor's Readings, for where humor, pathos or sublime sentiment was intimated, she brought it out in living form and beauty. The many manifestations of approval and appreciation by the large audience is sufficient guarantee of the true esteem for Miss Taylor as an elocutionist and teacher. The music rendered by Miss Hughes was classical and measured up to the highest and fondest hopes of her many friends who have been watching her rapid advancement with great interest. The many pieces of difficult composition requiring considerable time to render, thoroughly convinced the many who were fortunate enough to bear her, that she is a skillful pianist with but few equals.

Thursday evening Prof. Oblenmacker gave a grand concert which was highly appreciated by many lovers of high-class music. At intervals during the evening Misses Taylor and Rowe favored the audience with Readings.

DON'T SHIP

Your laundry work away. The Columbia Steam Laundry has reopened under the management of O. A. Barnett. Mr. Barnett has had eleven years experience in the business and is familiar with every detail. We do white vests beautifully at 20 cents. Ladies' waists, 20 to 35. All collars will have high gloss finish unless the word "Domestic" is written on the package. Family washes, scratched and ready to iron. "Rough Dry," four cents per pound. Patrons are requested to pay cash when packages are delivered, as the bills will be small and would cost us more to collect than it costs to deliver packages. We guarantee satisfaction. Everybody's patronage earnestly solicited. Columbia Steam Laundry, A. O. BARNETT, Mgr.

EARL R. EPPERSON

Visits Columbia and Entertains a Large Audience.

It was very gratifying to the citizens of this place to have had the subject of this writing with them last Wednesday evening. He was here in response to an invitation from Mr. J. O. Russell, for whom he was named, to deliver an oration, the subject being, "An Ever Present Problem." The Presbyterian church was filled to its utmost capacity, and when the speaker went to the stand he was given an ovation.

Judge H. C. Baker, in a few well-chosen words, introduced young Epperson, who is only nineteen years of age, but he delivered, oratorically, a most captivating and logical speech, and since its rendition many compliments have been paid the young man. He is ambitious and has entered upon a life of usefulness, determined to make his mark for good in the world. There is an old adage, "There is room at the top," and young Epperson has started up the ladder of fame, his friends believing that he will eventually reach the summit.

Earl R. Epperson is a son of Mr. W. P. Epperson, deceased, who was born and reared in Adair county, and who for a number of years was a business man in Columbia, and who numbered his friends by his acquaintances.

During Mr. Epperson's stay in Columbia he was a guest of Mr. J. O. Russell, and had the opportunity of meeting many relatives he had never before had the pleasure of seeing. He returned to Center College Friday, with the best wishes of the people of Columbia and Adair County.

J. P. HUTCHINSON.

Mr. Low Lowe, the dinner of this place, while descending a ladder last Saturday, fell to the ground, cutting a severe gash in his right leg below the knee.

COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE.

I notice in the columns of your last issue an article from our old friend and townsman, J. C. Yates, of Bradfordsville, in which he manifests much interest in the welfare of this community, touching a business proposition now on for action, all of which our people have read and still after all, headstrong and determined, we have decided to move out of the old beaten paths and keep with the spirit of the times, and whether Gradyville and this fertile section will meet with failure remains to be proven. In all her past the white flag has never been hoisted, and year by year her conditions have improved. I think I am justifiable in stating that failure does not come this way. Not only are we going to establish a bank, but there are other things in the industrial world that will be brought out in the near future. The next step in which there is union of sentiment and action, is the putting in of water works. We have ample water as good as earth affords, and we are going to put it under control. The spring on the old Creel Yates farm will supply the water, while a gasoline engine will pump it to a reservoir or stand pipe on top of the hill back of the mill, and from that point it will be distributed with all the force necessary to fight fire or for any other purpose. There is some talk, and I hope to see it materialize, of putting in an electric light plant. We have the power and can afford to meet the expenses for the convenience it would give. The fact is, after we get our waterworks, I fully believe that we can organize and put in a small ice plant. It is the opinion of a number of our best citizens that a plant of this kind would pay here. Milltown, Columbia, and a number of other places would buy our surplus, and it need not be surprising to bear of such a step in the near future. As an individual, I very much appreciate the interest manifested in our section by our old friend, and it affords me pleasure to invite him back to the old home to share in the growth and business expansion that Gradyville is now entering.

G. T. F.

A Kentucky colony, was organized at Knoxville last week. Mr. W. D. Jones, formerly of this place, was made Secretary of the organization. Rev. G. W. Perryman was present and offered prayer. There were about three hundred ex-Kentuckians who registered, all of whom will be in Louisville "Home Coming Week." It goes without saying that Mr. Jones and Rev. Perryman will be in Columbia the 19th of June. They will be given a hearty welcome by their friends of former days.

GREEN RIVER FARM FOR SALE.

My farm 1 mile south of Little Lake on Green river containing 304 acres 1 mile from church and school. Good buildings of all kinds, 2 good orchards and is a desirable home. Has ample timber for keeping up the farm and $400 of merchantable timber standing. There are 48 acres of bottom land worth more than I ask for the entire farm. $2500 buys the entire farm as I want to go west. This is your chance if you want a good home and profitable farm.

W. L. RICHNEY,

The locusts are here by the millions and early morning 'till the shades of evening they keep the woods ringing with their doleful cry. In some places where they made their exit from the earth the ground looks like a sieve. It is said that their stay in the land of the living is only 40 days and that they really pass out their earthly existence without eating any thing. Their sting to timber will be in evidence within a short while and then their mission will be ended, pass out of existence and their next appearance will be 1923.

W. C. CHESMAN.

EAST FORK.

The death angel visited the home of J. N. Pulliam on the 4th, and claimed as its victim, his aged companion, Elizabeth. They had been married about fifty years, and raised a respectable family of children, all of whom are married and heads of families. Sister Pulliam was a devoted Christian, and stated a few days before her death that in the past two years she had three times read the entire New Testament, and as a result, during her four months of constant suffering, she was enabled to bear her afflictions with patience, and frequently expressed her faith in God, and in the hour of death shouted and sang praises to God, testifying to the fact that she was going to rest. Saturday morning the funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Levi, and the remains laid to rest in the family burying ground. To the bereaved family we extend our deepest sympathy.

On account of the funeral service Saturday, church meeting was omitted, and in the afternoon, the ordinance of baptism was administered to five or six.

Miss Lena, the daughter of Mr. James Harris, is in a delicate state of health.

The citizens of Bridgeport are busy preparing for the dedication of the Methodist Church the 3rd Sunday.

The cool nights and slight frosts seem to have done no serious damage.

Mr. G. T. Bailey, of Tompkinsville, was a guest in this neighborhood Saturday and Sunday.

CRAYCRAFT.

Mr. S. H. Murrell, who lives near Clear Spring, has been quite sick for several weeks.

There will be preaching at Clear Spring Sunday.

Farmers throughout this section are through planting corn.

NATIVE OF ADAIR.

Lawrence H. Cravens, who was arrested Tuesday as a deserter from the United States army, is in double trouble. Owing to his physical condition and the belief that he would have to be sent to the hospital instead of the military prison, the recruiting officer stationed in Louisville deemed it best to release Cravens.

He was ordered to be released by Jailer J. R. Pfanz Thursday morning. No sooner had Cravens stepped into the office of the jail than he was rearrested by B. L. Bruner, Deputy United States Marshal.

The warrant on which Cravens was arrested the second time was issued on information furnished by J. A. Conyers, of Glasgow, Ky., and charges Cravens with selling whisky without paying the Government special tax. Cravens immediately was placed in jail to await the action of the Federal grand jury. It is probable that Cravens will ask for an immediate trial, so that he can either prove himself innocent of the charges or plead guilty and begin his sentence.—Courier-Journal.

TARIFF REFORM IN ILLINOIS.

Every boy who ever played marbles or shot at a jay bird knows that "a miss is as good as a mile," and Illinois Republicans are beginning now to know that they missed it by a mile at least in not carrying all twenty-five of the congressional districts of the State in 1904, instead of letting Congressman Henry T. Rainey, of the Twentieth District, get in as the lone Democrat in the Illinois delegation.

Mr. Rainey has weighted some good leverage in the Democratic heave-to to lift the Republican lid from Western river improvements, but it is as an echo of Illinois's demands in the reciprocity convention that Rainey's voice in the House is least melodious to Illinois machine Republicans.

In the reciprocity convention both the Illinois Senators spoke oothingly of tariff reform, but they and every one of the twenty-four Republican members of the House from Illinois have been dumb on the subject ever since the session opened.

But Mr. Rainey has not allowed standpatters to forget that tariff reform is a live issue this year and he has lucidly shown Illinois voters who cultivate the virtue of punctuality how they are mulcted in the purchase of timepieces by the highly protected Watch Trust.

Illinois growers of unprotected wheat, hogs and cattle may expect from him something more about the way their foreign markets are sacrificed to the interests of the Dingleyites, who, in addition, make them pay tribute on their shirts, their shoes, their coats, their blankets, the pots and pans in which their meals are cooked, the implements with which their crops are planted and the harvesting machinery with which they are gathered.

Illinois farmers are great sticklers for fair taxes. Before this year's campaign is done they are likely to have from Mr. Rainey and from many other sources itemized statements of the robber taxes they pay every time they put hand into pocket to buy anything that isn't otherwise taxed by the internal revenue laws.—St. Louis Republic.

THE CHEERFUL MAN.

The cheerful man is preeminently a useful man.

The cheerful man does not cramp his mind and take half-view of men and things.

The cheerful man knows that there is much misery, but that misery need not be the rule of life.

The cheerful man sees that every where the good out balances the bad, and that every evil has its compensating balm.

A habit of cheerfulness enables one to transmute apparent misfortune into real blessings.

He who has formed a habit of looking at the bright, happy side of things, has a great advantage over the chronic dyspeptic who sees no good in anything.

The cheerful man's thought sculpts his face into beauty and touches his manner with grace.

It was Lincoln's cheerfulness and sense of humor that enabled him to stand up under the terrible load of the Civil War.

If we are cheerful and contented all nature smiles with us; the air is balmy, the sky clearer, the earth has a brighter green, the trees have a richer foliage, the flowers are more fragrant, the birds sing more sweetly, and the sun, moon and stars are more beautiful.

All good thought and good action claim a natural alliance with good cheer. It is the normal atmosphere of our being.

High-minded cheerfulness is found in great souls, self-poised and confident in their own heaven-aided powers.

A MIGHTY STRUGGLE.

The forces of good and evil are continuing their strenuous fight for supremacy and every where the world over and especially so in our own country, the fight is daily increasing in severity. President Roosevelt is following the good example set by Gov. Folk of Mo., and Mayor Weaver, of Philadelphia and is pushing his fight for railroad and trust regulation. He is now engaged against the Standard Oil Company, the greatest monopoly of modern or ancient times and this together with his struggles against the monster railroad corporations, keeps him hustling. His worst enemy in the fight is the United States Senate who opposed him bitterly in every measure undertaken for the public weal, but some of the leading daily journals and weekly and monthly magazines of great influence are now leading their powerful aid against the senatorial hirelings of the trusts and some are showing signs of weakening under the steady fire of the 13th inch editorial guns. The good will undoubtedly, finally prevail, because a higher authority than any human agency has decreed it.

I would rather be a barefooted boy with cheeks of tan and heart of joy than to be a millionaire and president of a National bank. The financial panic that falls like a thunderbolt wrecks the band, crushes the banker, and swamps thousands in an hour. But the bank which holds the treasures of the barefooted boy never breaks.—Bob Taylor.

Judge J. W. Hughes, of Harrodsburg, is making a hustling campaign for the Democratic nomination to Congress in the Eight district to succeed Gilbert, who will not offer for re-election.

It is not in words we say, nor our promises, nor the professions we make before the world nor even to ourselves, but it is what we do that counts.

Fred Johnson was arrested in Lafayette, Ind., on a charge of bigamy as a result of a dream which was had by his first wife. In the dream her dead sister appeared and told her Johnson was married the second time. Johnson confessed.

"ARWED," The COACH HORSE

NOT A WESTERN DRAFT HORSE

But a Horse Kentucky Breeders should give their attention to from now until Season opens.

Don't continue to inbreed by crossing Saddle stock with Saddle stock. Improve the quality of your horses with the German Coach Strain. Raise colts of Size and Stamina that will be worth something to YOU.

ARWED is a Dark Brown Stallion, 16 hands, will weigh 1250 pounds and possesses all the Style and Attractiveness that is uppermost with Kentucky Horsemen. This Great Stallion, Imported from Germany and Registered in the German, Hanovian & Oldenburg Association of America, will make the present season ($10 insure a living colt.) at the stables of CHAPMAN BROWNING, Milltown, Ky.

At the same place the well known Jack, WALLACE WOOD, will make the season at $7.00 to insure a living colt. He is as good a breeder as Kentucky ever produced.

THE COLOR QUESTION RISES.

The color question is always bobbing up, but perhaps few anticipated that it would come before the General Assembly which meets this week at Des Moines, Ia. It is what is properly known as the Northern General Assembly, though that is not its official name. Heretofore it has got along all right with the colored brother, but there is a prospect now that he may be the subject of some controversy.

The proposed absorption of the Cumberland Presbyterian church brings with it certain impossibilities. That church has its membership chiefly in the South and West. It has, therefore, been deemed expedient to permit the formation of separate negro presbyteries and synods, but the General Assembly is common to all. But the hotel proprietors in Des Moines have decided that they will not entertain a colored man, even if he is a commissioner to the General Assembly. The General Assembly is not responsible for that, but it raises a troublesome question which it will be hard to keep out. Many of the commissioners hold their meetings in the hotels, and these often include informal dinners. From these, according to the order, the negroes will be excluded, and there is much apprehension as to what will be done about it.

This is one of the last places where one might have expected that the color line would be drawn in the North. The General Assembly is not to blame for it, but the question what it will do about it, if anything, has a degree of interest which cannot entirely be separated from the proposed consolidation of two churches.—Courier Journal.

It may be a source of great satisfaction to some people to read that Mr. John Rockefeller has made one of his princely donations to some charitable or religious institution, but the fellow who is running a gasoline engine or the one who uses a large quantity of coal oil shudders and grows faint at heart when he learns that Mr. Rockefeller has decided to let out a million to some of his beneficiaries, for he knows full well that there is to be a rise in the price of gasoline and coal oil in consequence. The price of gasoline has now reached the point where it is almost impossible to run gasoline engines profitably and the price is going higher. There is no excuse for it, and the only reason such things can exist is that Rockefeller has the power to rob the people and is doing it through violation of law and through dishonesty.—Larue Herald.

BRYAN ON COUNTRY EDITORS

The Washington Post has fallen into the bad habit set by other metropolitan newspapers and is just now engaged in reprinting extracts from country papers, says The Commoner, Mr. Baran's paper. This is done for the purpose of having fun with the country editors by copying what metropolitans too often look up on as a sample of "country journalism."

We venture the assertion that the daily papers print more of what they are pleased to call rot than the country papers do. If the country papers devote six or eight items to one family, the city journalists copy it with great glee and chuckle over the humor of it all. And yet the metropolitan papers recently printed more insufferable "rot" about one or two particular families than a hundred country newspapers could possibly print in a year.

The metropolitan papers take themselves too seriously. They seem inclined to the belief that they are "it" when the fact is they wield comparatively little influence as compared with the country weeklies. And they are by no means free from the faults they so joyfully point out in their country contemporaries.

CARL SCHURZ

The American people have long admired Carl Schurz, but they have never loved him.

In war he was a faithful soldier no doubt but he was neither a great General nor a great leader.

There were times when the influence of Carl Schurz was potent and it was always an influence for the good even when it was merely the voice of one crying in the wilderness.

Mr. Schurz was a liberal Republican in Missouri, preparing the way for the movement which culminated in the nomination of Horace Greeley.

Four years later he stood with Hays against Tilden and became a member of the cabinet.

In civil life he began as a revolutionary and ended as a carping critic of the closest; the philosopher who left the personal element out of all his equations.

In the contest for sound money Mr. Schurz spoke with rare clearness and convincing power. He stood usually for the greatest freedom for the Southern States. He was a believer in free trade, as John Sherman was at one time and as Beecher and David A. Wells were always.

It is not possible to follow the checkered career of Mr. Schurz without a handbook of politics, for he wore his party uniform so loosely that he often dropped it altogether.

Mr. Schurz's intellectual powers always commanded respect, and they may for a time keep his name from oblivion. The Senate was his best forum. Could he have remained there, as Allison has done, he would have left a deeper mark than Allison will do on our political history. In England it would not have been difficult for Schurz to have kept his footing in public life; in America the independent thinker can hope only to influence others and to act to their actions, but without party organization and party influence no politician can long be a direct influence on the conduct of public life.

But there are better things than place or power or fame, and those things Mr. Schurz had; clearness of intellect; power of expression; high ideals and loyalty to truth as he saw the truth. It matters not now whether he be remembered or be forgotten—Louisville Post.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

When a pretty girl has a sun grin on her face you doubt that it is the same girl.

Some people are unsuccessful at everything but kicking.

What has become of the old-fashioned boy who never left home without a bible in his trunk?

If hens could talk how they would abuse incubators. Incubators are better mothers than hens.

When a child asks an old-fashioned woman a question the woman is liable to say: "Curiosity killed a cat."

By the time a girl has worked down-town six-months her greatest ambition is to wear a white shirtwaist three days before sending to the laundry.

When a woman comes downtown shopping she spends half her time in taking off and putting on her gloves, and the other half in looking for samples in her pocket-book.

When a man returns to his old home town on a visit the people are never as glad to see him as he thinks they should be. And how many there are who have never heard of him.

AMBITION.

There's nothing that's more admired than ambition. It is the power that lifts mankind from the ranks of the mediocre and places him among those who have achieved things. It is that restlessness that makes him discontented with his achievements by pointing out that he can do no more and must do more. But the ambition that is fed by pure selfishness is not the kind that accomplishes the most. It is perhaps the best to be ambitious solely for the gratification of our own desires than not to be possessed of this necessary factor to human progress, but when this is the motive that prompts, the endeavors are not marked with a degree of charity that considers others who are striving onward and upward, but rather has a tendency to crush and cast aside those who obstruct the path.

WOMEN MORE CRUEL THAN MEN,

John P. Haines, in resigning from the Presidency of the New York Society for the Prevention of cruelty to animals, has attributed his downfall in that institution to the opposition of "cruel women who come to the meetings of the society wearing aigrettes of the plumage of birds that are obtained by the death of the mother bird and the starvation of the brood."

On this solid foundation of fact Mr. Haines feels secure in expressing the opinion that women are, "as a sex, more cruel than men."

All eyes have seen the woman with the bird on her hat. She wears this particular badge of her cruelty where it cannot escape being seen, and for the sole reason that it may be seen.

But is it not unfair to condemn women as utterly cruel because of this one fault?

After all, it is not so much a fault as a frailty. Women's vanity is an overpowering passion, and if they must feed it with the plumage of murdered birds, are they any worse than men who glut their greed upon the fruits of other men's life-crushing toil?

Cruelty is a very infrequent vice among women. Even bird wearing is far from being universal.

It is impossible not to remember that the whole structure of the movement on behalf of humanity to all creatures, which has reached greater proportions in this country than in any other land, is founded in the first instance on the tender-heartedness of the American women.

It would be interesting to know how far the S. P. C. A. movement would ever have progressed in this country but for the inspiration and enthusiasm that have come from women.

President Roosevelt has again demonstrated his respect for the South in a way to especially commend him to the old Confederate soldiers. The son of Gen. Sherman started with a troop of cavalry to follow the march that his father took with his army to the sea. The South will never forget that march of burning desolation and outrageous vandalism. It was a smirch and not a credit to Gen. Sherman and when his son proposed to go over it with a body of United States troops, the President, understanding how the South felt about it, without a word from the South, prohibited the troops accompanying Sherman. The action of Roosevelt was that of a gentleman and a Southern gentleman at that.—Elizabethtown News.

A DOZEN DON'T'S.

Don't sit around waiting for the world to pay you the living it owes you.

Don't waste on the family dog the carresses that your children are pining for.

Don't forget that you were once young.

Don't anger a man by always talking about your smart children when he wants to talk a little bit about his own.

Don't bother a busy man unless you have business worth while.

Don't say a word if you can not speak good of your neighbor.

Don't bore your friends by falling into the foolish habit of always giving advice.

Don't try to drown sorrow. It is the greatest floater known.

Don't forget that your cynicism may appear to your friends to be a cloak for ignorance.

Don't judge a man by results but by efforts.

Don't give advice that you do not follow.

Plenty of people do not loo where they are going, but there are mighty few who will not some day go where they are looking.

The law forbidding the delivery of alcoholic spirits into local option territory is now in full force. The days of jug hauling are passed. If the law is rigidly enforced its author, Representative Mat Mitchell, of Greensburg, will have accomplished a great deal for young manhood. In the face of this law stands the total ignoring of the wishes of the people in local option territory, by the Federal government. After all the effort of the people of any community to keep whiskey out of their homes and away from their sons, after the pains taking effort to have our state protect a people in local option communities the Federal government will permit and protect its manufacture and sale. "A house divided against itself can not stand," and until the general government regards the will and wishes of communities in the manufacture and sale of whiskey, we can not hope to see its use and destructive tendencies wiped out. In our judgment the most needed legislation and the strongest backing the temperance cause could secure would be in an act of Congress preventing the general government from trespassing on the sacredness of localities in their efforts to suppress the use of strong drinks. After all the law may forbid it, the sentiment and demands of a people may rebel against it and yet the fumes of a still may permeate the entire community. If the temperance leaders will arouse public sentiment to that point that will bring Federal recognition of local rights in the manufacture, sale and barter of whiskey, they will score the greatest point in the solution of its government.

The college bells have hushed, the merry crowds of youngsters, who responded to their calls, have dispersed and Columbia is back in the quiet walks of life. The last two weeks have been brim full and overflowing with life and gaiety. No similar period of time has ever recorded so many entertainments, in this city, and no similar gatherings of intellectual entertainments have outlasted in nobleness of purpose or equaled them in entertaining features. The best of talent has been called out and no one but an ingrate could fail to appreciate the far-reaching effect such a course will have on our community. In all the past Columbia has never witnessed more real, genuine interest manifested in educational interests and has never had equal indications of so bright a future.

Hon. Ben Johnson, of Nelson, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Fourth district.

Judge J. P. Hobson has received the Democratic nomination for Appellate Judge of this, the Third district.

Congress will soon hang its harp on the "Weeping Willow" and give Washington and the country generally a needed rest.

The Senate has finally passed the Rate Bill and the regulating will doubtless begin to regulate in the regular order of regulating under its provisions on regular time. At any rate its enforcement will be watched throughout the country.

Dr. John J. Tigert, one of the ablest ministers in the Southern Methodist Church, was elected Bishop at the General Conference held in Birmingham, Ill., last week. Bishop Tigert is a native of Louisville and is well known over Kentucky. Several years ago the Louisville Conference was held in Columbia. Bishop Tigert was here and preached a very able sermon at the Presbyterian church.

GRADYVILLE.

C. O. Moss and wife attended the exercises at the L. W. T. S., Saturday night.

A. J. Bridgewater and daughter, of Edmonton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grady Friday night.

Mrs. S. D. Caldwell and Mrs. Emily Burton, of Portland, visited at this place Friday.

Mrs. J. H. Caldwell and Children, of Portland, visited the family of R. L. Caldwell a day or so last week.

J. A. Diddle and sons spent a day or so transacting business in Greensburg last week.

G. T. Flowers and son brought back a nice string of fish from East Fork last Thursday.

G. W. Robertson and Z. M. Staples, of Columbia, were here Friday.

Quite a number of people from this place attended the dedicatory services at East Fork last Sunday. Rev. T. L. Hulsey, of Monticello, in a very interesting and impressive manner, delivered the sermon.

Rev. G. Y. Wilson made a visit a day or so last week in the community of Summer Shade and on his return brought back forty pounds of the nicest fish that has been here this season.

W. M. Smith and son, we understand, have set their crop of tobacco. They use a machine and report their plants growing off nicely.

Geo. H. Nell is spending this week in Russell and Clinton looking in after stock.

Mrs. J. A. Diddle spent last week in Columbia, attending the closing exercises of the schools.

Diddle & Tandy bought last week of Smith & Nell 138 sheep for $530. These sheep were unshorn.

Mr. Strong Hill is erecting a large business house at this place.

Mr. Filmore Sparks, one of Metcalfe county's best business men, passed through here last Monday with a carload of hogs, enroute for the Louisville market.

We hear considerable complaint from some of our farmers in regard to their growing crop of wheat. The prospects are not so flattering as they were some time ago.

The Sheriff of Metcalf county was here last Saturday looking after some of our young men to appear before their grand jury at the next setting.

Mrs. C. Wilmore and Mrs. G. Y. Wilson spent several days in Columbia last week attending the closing exercises of the School.

E. T. Keltner, of East Fort, was here Saturday.

About all of our people attended circuit court at Columbia last Monday.

Rev. Geo. Compton will preach at Leather Wood Church on the 4th, Sunday afternoon.

Dr. L. C. Nell was transacting business at Sparksville Thursday.

Our merchants have sold over two carloads of fertilizer at this place this spring.

Squire Kemp and daughter, accompanied by a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Thompson, were at Greensburg one day last week.

There was no preaching at Union on last Sunday on the account of Bro. Sandige being called to Cumberland county to preach the funeral of Bro. Davison.

The recent few days of dry weather is bringing some complaint from our farmers that the moles are taking up their growing crop of corn.

We had the pleasure of attending the dedication of the Methodist church at East Fork on last Sunday. We find the good people of that section have erected a nice church which is an honor to that community. The audience was very large, but short attention was given to the service. A good dinner was served by the large audience.

HOME COMING

Clean up the Town-Make Ready for Guests.

When our friends come home we would all like to see them enjoy themselves. They can not do so if they find everything about their old town filthy. If the streets are dirty, the fences rickety and dock and other noxious weeds are permitted to grow in the streets and on the sidewalks. Let us then clean up the town. Let us white wash all the fences and out buildings. Let us abolish hog pens that have a loud smell. Let us cover our rain barrels and do away with mosquitos. If we do away with mosquitos we do away with wiggletails; mosquitos make wiggletails and wiggletails make mosquitos; and mosquitos make malaria. An easy and effectual way to cover barrels is, to get a hoop that will fit the top of the barrel the line it with cheese cloth. The water from the spout will pass through it, while the filth will be kept out and the breeding places of the mosquitos broken up. So

Jordan Peacock---The Greatest Horse

In Kentucky

JORDAN PEACOCK will make the present season at Gradyville, Kentucky, and will serve mares at $15 to insure a living colt one week old. If any mare should loose a colt by carelessness or rough treatment then the season is due. Jordan Peacock has sired more high priced colts than any horse in Kentucky. Cotton and mules have their ups and downs but The Peacocks are Always Up---The Horse Buyers are always Looking for Peacocks, and pay from two to three times as much for them as they do any others. Last Fall his Suckling Colts Sold from $100.00 to $135.00; Flowers Bros. sold a 2-year-old mare for $325; a 4-year-old gelding sold March 8, in a pair for $825.00. Did you ever know of any other horses in this part of the State that sold for such prices? When you breed to Jordan you are going to get a good Colt and one that's ready money as soon as it hits the ground. There have been some men that have sold their colts as soon as they bred the mares. Now if you want to raise the best, bring your mares to Jordan, Peacock.

CAPTAIN PEACOCK, A 3-YEAR-OLD STALLION

By Jordan Peacock and Dam by Colonel Tom, will make the season for $10 to insure. Captain Peacock is the best prospect I have ever seen. He has been shown at the Columbia Fair from a suckling colt up, under halter, single and double, and has worn the Blue every time and has defeated some of the best age horses shown at the Fair. Bring your mares to my Horses and you are sure to get a colt and a good one.

KENTUCKY KING, one of the finest models in the State, Sired by Red Squirrel No. 53 and out of R. F. Paul's brood mare, will make the present season at my stable and will be permitted to serve mares at $15.00 to insure a living colt, one week old. PEDEGREE---Vol. 6, register No. 2278, dam, Maud Coe, No. 2495, by Alexander's Lexington, No. 2208; Second dam, Maud White by Artist, No. 75.

GRADYVILLE STOCK FARM

HORRIBLE DEATH.

The four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vanzant, of Edmonston, was hurried to death last Sunday afternoon in their home. Mr. and Mrs. Vanzant and their child were visiting one of their near neighbors and while there the little fellow slipped off home. He took a broom and knocked from the mantle a box of matches which ignited and burned all the clothing from him. On their return home they found their dear little one burned as above stated and which resulted in death shortly afterwards. The sorrowing parents have the deepest sympathy of their many friends and acquaintances in this their great affliction.

Rev. S. M. Miller, of Jeffersonville, a very able minister, preached the baccalaureate sermon before the pupils of the Lindsay-Wilson Training School, at the Methodist church last Sunday forenoon. Mr. Miller has an easy way of speaking, is eloquent, logical and very impressive. As a minister he stands high in the Louisville Conference, and is evidently doing a good work at Jeffersonville. He is a native of Taylor county, and his old home people are proud of his record.

J. L. HURT.

A temperance conference will be held in Louisville May 31 and June 1. The meeting will be held at the Trinity M. E. Church 3rd and Guthrie. All who are opposed to the liquor evil are urged to be present. One and one third railroad fare plus 25 cents for round trip.

OUR NEW FORCE.

We are pleased to announce to our friends and patrons that Mr. J. C. Strange has taken charge of our mechanical department and Mr. J. McScott has taken the position of city editor and solicitor. These gentlemen are too well and favorably known to the people of southeastern Kentucky to need an introduction. Mr. Strange has had charge of the mechanical department of the Columbia Spectator for several years, and the elegant calendars and job work of all kinds sent out of that office to the merchants and business men in Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia are sufficient testimony as to his skill as a job printer. Mr. Scott was for some time on the editorial staff of a daily paper in Paris, Texas, and during the last three years has been connected with the Spectator. The large amount of well written news which occupied the columns of that excellent paper every week, and the large amount of job work turned into the office through his solicitation, place him in the front rank in his special lines. We congratulate ourselves on these two accessions to the Mountaineer force. We are now prepared to fill orders for job work on short notice and give the best service to be obtained at rock bottom prices.—Somerset Mountaineer.

LINDSAY-WILSON COMMENCEMENT.

Highly Entertaining Exercises From Start to Finish.

The Lindsay-Wilson closing exercises were attended by large and enthusiastic audiences and when the curtain dropped on last Monday's exercises it could be truthfully stated that it sent more students home for a short vacation than any similar institution in Southern Kentucky. From start to finish the programs were rendered in the most acceptable manner, receiving the hearty applause of the many who were present to enjoy intellectual treats.

The exercises began last Friday evening and consisted of one of the most refreshing programs ever witnessed in the closing of a school in this part of the country. It was rendered by Miss Duncan and Miss Penland's classes and so pleased the many present as to elicit the most enthusiastic applause. On Saturday afternoon the Junior pupils of Miss Duncan's class, assisted by the Juniors of Miss Penland and Wilmore's classes rendered a program in almost a perfect manner. The recitations were evidence of the most thorough and competent training and to say that those who entertained in that manner brought out the full force of the writers meaning would only be stating a fact witnessed by a crowded house. The music was well up to the highest point of expectation and the manner in which the many difficult numbers were rendered speaks more for the teachers than any words of ours could portray.

On Saturday evening the programme consisted of recitations and classical music and was highly interesting throughout.

On Sunday the Baccalaureate sermon was preached in the Methodist church by Rev. S. M. Miller, mention of which is made in an other column.

The closing exercises on Monday forenoon consisted of music and an essay by Miss Rosa McNeill on "The Curse of War, The Blessings of Peace" and those who were fortunate enough to be present pronounced it unequalled in the list of the many entertainments given in the town this year. Miss McNeill received her diploma which was presented in a most inviting manner by the principal, Prof. P. D. Neilson. Rev. S. M. Miller delivered a commencement address which for oratorical powers, depth of thought and sublimity of sentiment stands without an equal in that institution of learning.

Well and truly can we state that all parties, teachers and students, acquitted themselves in every effort befitting the heartiest endorsement of a progressive and intelligent people and truly did they receive it. In token of the high appreciation held for the Principal, the students presented Prof. Neilson with a fine gold watch charm.

The decorations were artistic and gave a refreshing air to every entertainment and stood out as evidence of love, good will and taste.

The students have returned to their homes, the teachers are enjoying a needed rest and the community is congratulating the most successful term in the history of that rapidly advancing institution.

BIG ELM.

Being a citizen of the county (Russell) I should know something of its resources. Russell county is not blessed with the richness of soil as some other counties of the State. But it has a high dry soil, very productive with the aid of a little commercial fertilizer, produces good crops of wheat and corn, and in fact everything that is planted in this section of the State. All of the county excepting the Cumberland river section is naturally adapted to the growth of wheat, the yield averaging from 8 to 10 bushels per acre. We have three or four roller mills in the county that grind and ship large quantities of flour by the Cumberland to Burnside and Nashville. We can also boast of the best fruit country in Southern Kentucky. The peach crop is the best in the history of the county, the crop of one man has been estimated at eight hundred or one thousand bushels.

It appears that our capital city builds up rather slow compared with other towns of the county, however it has a new jail and bank building.

We can boast of the prosperous city of Russell Springs surrounding the celebrated mineral springs from which it takes its name. This city has built up in the last ten years to a city of considerable population of wide-awake generous and business people. It is remarkable how the farmers have prospered in the last ten years. They have erected new houses, barns, fences and planted orchards, some good meadows and as a general thing have improved their farmers every way.

Thousands of acres of untouched timber, such as oak, poplar, ash, hickory, walnut and beech and all other large timbers are yet standing and will be a source of revenue for years to come.

We have a number of good church buildings, good school buildings and schools.

I write from Big Elm which takes its name from the largest elm tree in Russell county or any where else. J. A. T.

POLITICIANS AND NEWSPAPERS.

The country editor has come to learn that the public always accepts him at his own valuation. Journalism is both a business and a profession. So far as it sells news as a commodity, it is a business; so far as it endeavors to direct public opinion and to influence public action, it is a profession. It is an honest business to sell news; it is an honest profession to mould public sentiment, if it is honestly done. The average country editor is not always sure of his own status, because of the uncertain status of his calling. Some country editors look upon themselves as semi-public charges, like many country preachers, and subsist largely on donations made through the good nature and the charity of their patrons or neighbors. This type, we hasten to add, is rapidly disappearing from the country press. If weekly journalism has not so high a place in the respect of its readers or the confidence of its advertisers as the country editor thinks it should have, it is entirely because he has failed to take himself and his business or profession seriously, and he has accepted a place in the general estimation alongside the village joker, the corner grocery orator and the street corner gossip. — Press and Printer.

TIME TABLE OF CRIME.

After reading a startling "time table of Chicago crime" which he said was based on actual official record, McKenzie Cleland, an attorney, told the Chicago Presbytery that the situation reminded him of a story in which hades was located within the Chicago limits.

Seventy-five ministers and laymen applauded the speaker, who severely criticised Mayor Dunne.

According to the figures presented by Attorney Cleland, the Chicago time table of crime is as follows:

Disturbance in street—Every 6 seconds.

Arrest made Every 7½ minutes.

Arrest for drunkenness—Every 15 minutes.

Larceny committed—Every 20 minutes.

Assault and battery—Every 27 minutes.

Burglary—Every 3 hours.

A holdup—Every 6 hours.

Suicides—Two every day.

Murders—One every day.

These crimes are committed with this frequency day and night through the year.

"The contemplation of these figures is astounding and enough to strike terror to the heart of every law-abiding and peaceful citizen," said Mr. Cleland. "We have added 500 patrolmen to our Police Department but, there has been no decrease in the volume of crime and no appreciable increase in the number of arrests."

"You ask what can be done to remedy these conditions?

"I do not know that we can do anything that will give practical relief. We can not compel the Mayor to do his duty and enforce the laws. All the churches can do is to increase their home missionary work in an effort to reach the masses and lead men to better lives.

WITH OUR CORRESPONDENTS

MONTPELIER.

Everybody is through planting corn and gone fishing.

Strawberries and radishes are on our bill of fare.

Mrs. Emerline wheat, of Esto, is visiting at Mr. L. P. Hurts.

Mr. J. N. Conover has recently purchased his daughters a new piano.

Miss Birdie Hadley visited her grandparents at Russell Springs last Wednesday night.

Eld. F. J. Barger preaches at Pleasant Hill every 3rd Sunday morning and afternoon. He is an interesting speaker and every one should hear him.

Paul Wolford, son of Dr. J. R. Wolford and Miss Selby of Russell county, eloped to Tennessee and were married last week.

Miss Anna E. Montgomery, Ozark, was a pleasant visitor at the Misses Murrah last week.

Mr. Olive Taylor and sister, will attend the "Home Coming" at Louisville in June.

Watch For it.

It will pay you to watch for the very first symptom of indigestion or liver trouble and to prevent the trouble from gaining headway, by quickly taking Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. Nothing is more weakening to the system than chronic dyspepsia, and all its complications. Nothing will cure it so quickly, pleasantly and surely as Syrup Pepsin. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, of Columbia, and Page and Moore, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

DENMARK.

Wheat is looking fine and farmers are through planting corn.

The general health of the community is good. Vegetation of all kinds need rain badly. Corn will be a very bad condition unless we have rain soon.

People are preparing for a grand time at Moore's school house the 30th.

Hon. N. H. W. Aaron was visiting at Mr. T. L. Hannison's, of Esto, last Sunday.

Miss Mary Hadley who has been confined to her bed for some time is improving.

Col. Silas A. Sullivan has gone to Indian Territory on business.

Aaron Bros., & Co., have added to their business a new Victor fire-proof safe, bought of S. C. Neat, agent, of Columbia.

The commercial men who called on our merchants the 16th, were Messrs. Dudgeon, Hancock, Sparks, Lenard and McKnight.

Uncle Job Kernes made a nice catch of 100 Cumberland river fish Saturday. He is the veteran fisher of our country, this being his 4th catch.

Aaron Bros. & Co. are doing an immense business.

Hanged a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Spickel, of Millets, W. Va. Persists one of the Salve completely cured it." Cures Cuts, Burns and Injuries. 25c at T. E. Paul, druggist.

DIRIGO.

J. J. England and Ethridge Petty were in Gradyville Saturday.

Misses O. H., Hershel and Thish McClister, of Fairplay, were here Saturday.

Mrs. J. W. McClister, visited relatives at Fairplay last week.

Walter James and family and Ed Stotts and family, of Gradyville, were at I. G. Williams last Sunday.

J. W. McClister says that he is not easily scared but when some is prowling around his store at night he can not keep from shooting.

Mr. George Stotts, the veteran squirrel hunter, has recently purchased a bow and arrow. He says that with a few weeks practice he could lay Locksley in the shade. That Mr. Stotts is a marksman can not be denied for a few years ago he took an old cap and ball rifle that had no lock, using his bullet ladle to burst the cap with, and killed 23 squirrels in one day while his companion with a breech-loading shot gun could boast of only ten. We challenge the world for a better record.

R. L. Campbell was on the sick list last week.

Arthur Roup, the well-known trader of Sparkesville was here last Saturday. He made one or two trades during the day.

Let Everybody Work.

And the world would be more happy and contented. Just consider how much pain and trouble results in your body when your liver or stomach stop working. Happily, you can soon set them to work again, cure your pains and restore yourself to health and contentment, with Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. Try it. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, Columbia, and Page and Moore, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

FAIRPLAY.

Wheat crops are looking fine in this part of the section.

Most of the farmers are done planting corn and are putting in their time fishing.

"Uncle" Joe Burpo one of the oldest citizens of this place died, Monday night with pneumonia fever, age 112 years.

Mrs. Othen Fletcher, is confined to room with typhoid fever.

Several of the young people from this place attended the singing at Pierces Chapel last Sunday afternoon.

Hamon and Green are running their saw mill at a rapid rate.

Mrs. Hamon is improving slowly.

The Merchants at this place are doing good business.

Miss Cattie Thomas was shopping here one day last week.

A large crowd attended the social at Mr. S. L. Sandusky's Saturday night, all reported a nice time.

Miss Hattie Burbridge is visiting Marcus and Iva Loy this week.

Prof. Wesley Turner will sing at Pierces Chapel next Sunday.

PELL HAM.

Farmers are preparing their tobacco ground.

Bro. Kasey filled his appointment at Hutchinson School-House the second Sunday. Everybody regrets that he did not leave another appointment, as he is such an interesting preacher.

Locusts have come and you can hear their constant buzzing from early in the morning until sun down.

Mr. Bud Hughes, of Metcalfe county, visited S. E. Squires last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Wess Bennett is dangerously ill.

Cash, son of Hard Smith is lying very low, a victim of consumption.

John Squires visited Campbellsville a few days ago.

Our Sunday-School has seventy-six scholars and is moving along nicely.

Scott Todd lost a very fine mule last week.

Rev. Wm. Dudgeon will preach at Hutchinson School-house the fourth Sunday.

Dud Smith killed ten suckers at one shot a few days ago who can beat that?

Cleaned Out.

When a deep cellar becomes filled with heavy, poisonous air it is never safe to go into it until it has been cleaned out. When your body has been poisoned with the foul residues of undigested food, it is just as necessary to clean it out. To do this pleasantly and safely take Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is a pure scientific preparation which has no equal in the cure of constipation, headache, biliousness and stomach trouble. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, of Columbia, and Page and Moore, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

RUGBY.

Messrs. George and Wolford Page, have gone to New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Roberts spent Tuesday night at the home of Mr. J. M. Shives.

T. J. Rosson, who has been confined to his room several weeks, with Rheumatism is improving.

Mr. F. A. Strange and wife, of Glenville, visited at Mr. J. M. Shives, Saturday and Sunday.

Little Ella May Royse spent last week at Glenville, visiting.

FONTHILL.

Corn plowing is the order of the day.

Wheat is as fine as ever was in this "neck-o-the-woods," and a large yield is expected.

The entertainment at the Russell Springs Academy was largely attended, judging from the number who passed here. All the medals won, were by boys and girls of this county. Hurrah for old Russell.

Fonthill roller mill is being put down, and judging from its looks it will not be long ere the flour will be pouring.

Famous Strike Breakers.

The most famous strike breakers in the land are Dr. King's New Life Pills. When liver and bowels go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. Best cure for constipation, headache and dizziness. See at T. E. Paul's drug-gist.
